

Singing with Sue Baker

Clarkson Historical Society

8343 West Ridge Road in Clarkson

July/August 2024

Clarksonhistoricalsociety.org

School is open

Clarkson Historical Society's Summer Camp

We have just finished the 2024 Summer School Camp at the Clarkson Academy. Along with learning cursive writing, the students saw a play about Lewis Swift, incorporating the fact that he received his education at the Clarkson Academy and to tie in with the solar eclipse. Local people didn't see the moon covering the sun, but thanks to the play, we heard the sounds when the sun was covered. Readers were Olivia, Bridget, Maggie, Madelyn, and Shae. Games, led by Leanna Hale and four former campers, Gabe, Olivia, Madelyn, and Bridget, included jump rope, huckle-buckle beanstalk, and drop the clothes pin in the bottle – not so easy!

Learning about bees with Tadge O'Brien

Fran Murphy sharing experiences as a writer

Lisa Rice teaching how to make Dr. Seuss' Oobleck

Singing with Dave and Debbie Preston

Cursive writing with Ruth Rath and Nancy Stone

